Fellow The Leader

All men are born with an urge to lead,
Some with true power while others lack strength,
Always striving to make another man heed,
But the greater of them will rule at length.
Even into rage and fits of despair,
Too many favors and fairness we swallow,
Never rehearsing the noblest prayer.
Dear Lord, make me willing to follow:
That time will come when all shall see,
God is the Almighty leader under the sun,
And know to covet rule is a wasteful spree,
And when we realize the other fellow has won,
Let us be great and strong and say confessing,
Farewell, leading role, I follow—thy leadership possessing.

—Lamont Edmondson

The Scruggs Sabre

The J. Bland Scruggs Memorial Sabre is an award given annually to the Cadet Officer at the Academy of Richmond County who is outstanding in Military and Scholastic Achievements. This sabre is awarded in memory of J. Bland Scruggs who lost his life by drowning on Jan. 29, 1932.

To be considered for this award a student must show by his deeds that he believes in a sense of fair play as essential an attribute as any accomplishments or honors he may receive. This award is considered by the cadets as one of the school's highest honors.

Winner of 1952 award:

Academy of Richmond County

WE, THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1953, of the Academy of Richmond County, being more or less sane, and otherwise distinguished by various mental peculiarities and complexes, do hereby leave these following items to our younger schoolmates in hopes that they will end up with as much knowledge (?) as we!

ITEM I—I, Terry Culpepper, being of sound mind and warped legs, do leave the memory of five fun-filled years at A. R. C. to any and everyone who cares to share it with me.

ITEM II—We, Anne Mura, Janet Mulcay, and Shirley Nash, leave our picnic table in the reading room of the library to anyone with the right size foot to hold up its short leg.

ITEM III—I, James Connor, Jr., do will to H. B. Whitehead my portable telescope for those mountains on the drill field.

ITEM IV—I, Richard Still, leave my ability to slip away from the Varsity without tipping the curb boys to Ford Miller.

ITEM V—I, Bobbie McKie, do hereby leave my braces to anyone with the physical strength to wear them as long as I have.

ITEM VI—To some unsuspecting Junior, I, Diane Coward, do will and bequeath my positions on the Rainbow and Sound Off staffs.

ITEM VII—I, David Gale, hereby leave to Wimpy Odom my reservation at Table No. 9 at Home Folk's Pool Room.

ITEM VIII—I, Wyman Lamb, do will my ability to gain weight to Nat Dye so that some day he may be big enough to play football.

ITEM IX—I, Allen Rowe, do hereby leave Miss Braddy—Thank Goodness!

ITEM X—I, another Allen Roe, bequeath to Mr. Owens my extraordinary gift in penmanship.

ITEM XI—We, Barbara Bannister, Jeanette Stringer, Barbara Morris, Rosemary Feese, and Ann Culpepper, do leave to Alphas of future years our ability to get to 7:00 Alphas meetings at 7:30 and still be on time.

ITEM XII—I, Billy Fair, hereby will and bequeath my brilliant military career to Kenneth Merry.

ITEM XIII—To the joy of all the teachers at A. R. C., I, Anne Dye, take my argyle socks and leave.

ITEM XIV—We, Catherine Smart and Nancy Silbert, do leave our table in the lunchroom to anyone who manages to arrive there in one piece.

ITEM XV—I, Peggy Dowling, bequeath to Joan Watkins, my ability to stand in the hall to talk and still walk into Mr. Wise's class just as my name is called.

ITEM XVI—I, Paul Cook, of sound mind and not under the intoxicating influence of root beer, do leave my outstanding military record of demerits and extra drills to Maj. James Caldwell.

ITEM XVII—To Caro McDonald, I, Nancy Marshall, will my ability to knit socks in hopes that she can find someone to wear them.

ITEM XVIII—I, Lynne McMichael, leave my ability to get ready for drill during Mr. Cowin's 3rd period chemistry class to any needy senior.

ITEM XIX—So that Mr. Talley will always be able to "drive-on" in his future physics classes, I, Sam Fleming, leave him a permanent drivers' license.

ITEM XX—We, Elizabeth Thompson and Ann Tandersley, will our ability to get out of school to Annelie Newton and Joan Fricks, for we know they need it.

ITEM XXI—I, Grace Molineux, bequeath to Gracie Merry my position on the Rainbow staff as "Dis-Grace".

ITEM XXII—I, Connie Marsh, hereby bequeath to Bill Brunkhurst my ability to sing alto in hopes that one day he may be a member of an a cappella choir.

ITEM XXIII—To Willard James, Bill Smith leaves his tough luck with girls and "Sticks" Steinberg leaves him the legs that carried him through five glorious years of football at A. R. C.

ITEM XXIV—I, Mary Martin, being the last of the three Martins, hereby leave Miss Bailie to anybody who wants her.

ITEM XXV—I, Peggy Adams, leave my lease on the first aid room to Mary Ann Dunn and Carolyn Vaughn.

ITEM XXVI—We, the Joseph Lee's, being of sound mind, bequeath our names to anyone who wants to confuse their teachers as we have done. (Joseph D. Lee and Joseph M. Lee).

ITEM XXVII—We, Ethel Wright and Virginia Bowe, leave to any enterprising Juniors our ability to annoy Mr. Owens.

ITEM XXVIII—I, Jules, Godin, will my laughing ability to Henry Fields.

ITEM XXIX—I, Joan Crawford, leave to Linda Whittle my ability to get married in hopes that she will follow in my footsteps.

ITEM XXX—To Katherine Bailey, I, Patsy Adams, leave Kay Wooten's ability to fall flat on her nose in the midst of a flock of boys.

ITEM XXXI—I, Donald Hite, do hereby will and bequeath to Col. "Sweetrock" Lowe my job as company commander of "B" company in hopes that he may win the informal inspection.

ITEM XXXII—I, Betty Day, will to Paula Hickson my ability to knit Frank F. some socks.

ITEM XXXIII—I, Ed Burkhalter, leave all my brains and football talent to Gene Griffin.

ITEM XXXIV—We, Carol Benson, Jackie Murray, Wanda Ward, Evelyn Beckum, Ann Hankinson, "Punk" Scales, and Louise McGahee, hereby bequeath one large economy size bottle of GLUE to Adelaide P., Pat H., Jeannie N., Becky W., Eleanor K., Margot T., and Joyce H., so that they may stick together as we have.

ITEM XXXV—I, Claire Minor, leave to anyone who will have it my nickname "Clay".

ITEM XXXVI—I, Betty Dempsey, do bequeath to Suzie Baggott, my ability to get along so well with one particular member of her family (Alias BOB Baggott).

ITEM XXXVII—I, Mickey Crouch, leave my acting ability to Charlie Bowen (he'll be around a while!).

Last Will and Testament

ITEM XXXVIII—I, Wilhelmina Adams, leave to Paula Miller my ability to become very popular through my career as "nurse's assistant".

ITEM XXXIX—To anyone who hates to go to class as much as I do, I, Jane Eubanks, will my ability to think up convincing excuses to get out of them.

ITEM XL—I, Katherine Burns, leave the nerve-racking bus rides to and from school to any Richmondite living in Fleming Heights.

ITEM XLI—I, Lee Riley, do leave my ability to coon hunt on school night and not go to sleep in the swamp to Jimmy Pirkle.

ITEM XLII—I, Herman Rowell, bequeath to Dudley Baird my ability to handle "A" company in hopes that he meets with more success than I.

ITEM XLIII—I, Marian Haygood, leave my most unflattering compliment, "You know, you walk like a football player," to Jenny Wylie, who is the picture of poise at all times.

ITEM XLIV—I, Jinky Ferris, hereby bequeath to Gracie Merry, Harriet Epps, and Barbara Cook, my most convenient parking place on Bransford Avenue hill.

ITEM XLV—To Chad Ross, I Bob Burgess, do hereby leave my place as kettle drum player in hopes that he will play the Eroica Overture better than John Dumas.

ITEM XLVI—I, Herman Eitner, leave the color-guard to Billy Henderson so that he will be able to get out of drill five minutes early next year.

ITEM XLVII—I, Judy Brown, being of rather uncertain mind, bequeath my ability to get out of Mr. Scott's class to anyone lucky enough to get him.

ITEM XLVIII—We, "Pro" Crawford, Suzanne Carswell, and Mary Davis do leave Mary Y. to Paula Hymes, Jackie Bell, and Jackie Halford.

ITEM XLIX—To Raworth Williamson, I, Jimmy Raines, do hereby bequeath my ability to make high marks under Mr. Owens.

ITEM L—I, Gene Cronic, am getting out of here so fast, I don't have time to leave anything.

ITEM LI—I, W. K. Hall, being of weak mind and small stature, hereby leave my ability to get out of drill and MS&T my senior year to Joe Dykes.

ITEM LII—To poor unsuspecting Grace Creech, I, Beverly Farr, will my desk in Mr. Wise's English class.

ITEM LIII—I, Marianna Cato, in hopes that Margaret Yarbrough will pass typing, do bequeath to her my ability to type 35 words per minute (not counting errors, of course).

ITEM LIV—We, Tommy Thoroughman and Mike Zucker, do hereby leave our outstanding athletic prowess, fine school spirit, prize drilling, and fabulous hallways romances to Joe Cooler and Norman Griffin.

ITEM LV—I, Patsy NeSmith, being of blank mind, do heartily regret that I have no ability to leave.

ITEM LVI—I, Thomas Duncan, hereby leave the following: to Mr. Gallaway, my books; to Maj. Caldwell, my rifle; and to my sorrow, Richmond Academy.

ITEM LVII—I, Alice Ogden, leave my sympathy to next year's Alpha chaplain and hope that she has longer than three minutes to plan a devotional.

ITEM LVIII—To Adelaide Pund, I, Frances Setze, bequeath my ability to forget chemistry lab and walk into class an hour late.

ITEM LVIX—I, Charles W. Bowen, being of unsound mind, ain't leaving nothing until I'm sure I'm out of this place!

ITEM LX—We, Joan Stribling and Patty Zurfluh, will to Nancy Durden and Dotty Zurfluh, our ability to slip out of Mr. Dolyniuk's fourth period study hall.

ITEM LXI—I, Caroline Courson, leave my skill in dodging books that fall out when I open my locker to Frank Bailey.

ITEM LXII—We, Ann Roberts and Jackie Rountree, leave our ability to break test tubes in Mr. Cowin's lab and still pass chemistry.

ITEM LXIII—I, Tommie Morris, being of unsound mind, bequeath my seat in Miss Braddy's English class to Jack Bowman in hopes that he will enjoy writing those whimsical themes.

ITEM LXIV—I, Tom Mixon, leave to anyone crazy enough to accept it, anything I might possibly have—except Joann.

ITEM LXV—To Helen Myrick, I, Beverly Brandenburg, will my ability to reserve one small table in the lunchroom for twenty people.

ITEM LXVI—I, Len Chavis, do hereby and thereby leave to "Gloomy" Gene Glisson my football.

ITEM LXVII—I, Dennis Harlowe, bequeath to Swain McElmurray my two slightly used brain cells for use in Professor Talley's physics class.

ITEM LXVIII—To the next Lovers of A. R. C., we, Shirley McBeath and Charley Anderson, leave the two adjacent love seats in Miss Marshall's Creative Writing class and all the privacy that goes with them.

ITEM LXIX—I, Eve Moseley, leave to anyone who wants it—Geometry!

ITEM LXX—I, Ed Moody, to my great delight leave this school (but I have enjoyed it).

ITEM LXXI—We, Scotty Langham and Pete Whately, leave to anyone having no love for detention hall, our ability to get to Mr. Read's class on time except when he is out of the room.

ITEM LXXII—I, Grace Yarbrough, being of no mind, do bequeath to Glenda Prince my many excuses for escaping chemistry class so that they may be of some value when she gets caught.

ITEM LXXIII—I, Neva Reynolds, leave my alarm clock to Bobbie Lee Powell so that she can get to school on time for homeroom.

ITEM LXXIV—I, Roy Scarborough, do will and bequeath to any boy named Roy the ability to be called Ray in spite of it all.

ITEM LXXV—I, Pat Payne, do hereby bequeath my ability to talk with my mouth closed and sleep with my eyes open to any student in Miss McAuliffe's history class (does it work—well?).

Signed, sealed and delivered by the Class of 1953 to be its last will and testament.

Varsity Football

On August 20th, when most students were enjoying their vacations, forty-three boys journeyed to Rome, Georgia, for two weeks of anything but pleasure. They were a bunch of boys when they went there, but they left there as a team, a championship team.

Although the 1952 football team failed to win the state title as they did in previous years, they gained the honor of being the first undefeated football team in Richmond's history. The Musketeers held on to the Region title for the third consecutive year, and all in all, 1952 was one of the most spectacular and exciting seasons ever witnessed by Richmond fans.

ARC—43: NORTH AUGUSTA—6

The first game was against North Augusta, which was thoroughly outclassed by the fast hitting Richmond eleven. The two-platoon system was introduced for the first time in Georgia high school history against the Yellow Jackets. The first team only ran six plays in the game and scored five times. One was called back.

ARC—18: GLYNN—0

Glynn Academy of Brunswick was the first of five Region foes to meet defeat at the hands of the Musketeer machine. The first team scored three times in the first quarter and let the "subs" battle it out the rest of the way.

ARC—35: CHARLESTON 0

The T. C. U. spread was used to a wider extent in the Charleston game, played in Charleston, South Carolina. Coach Harry Milligan had to keep his first team in longer that game, but at the half the score was 28-0, so he kept them out for the rest of the game.

ARC—32: COMMERCIAL—2

Richmond made its second road trip, to Savannah this time, and beat its second Regional foe. Those Richmond fans who made the trip saw the whole team play a great game, with Johnny Menger handling his usual outstanding ball. Menger made the longest run of the season against the "Cobras"; When he got trapped behind his own line, he reversed his field, picked up blockers and traveled 85 yards for a touchdown. The Richmond line held the Cobras for minus seventeen yards rushing on the ground. Against North Augusta, they held the foe for minus nine.

ARC—14: LANIER—7

Five bus loads of Richmond patriotism in the form of 250 Richmond students followed the team to Macon and cheered them on to victory over the tough Lanier "Poets". In all, there were 2000 Richmond fans at the game. With such school support the Musketeers played the game of their lives. The Musketeers opened with a 60 yard run by Ed Burkhalter on the first play of the game. After that the two teams battled to a standstill until Lanier scored on a long pass behind Gene Cronic who was hampered by a leg injury. This was just enough to give Richmond that spark that only champions can have, and the Musketeers came back to score on six plays; Len Chavis scored on a pass from Menger. The Richmond line spent the rest of the game in the "Poets" backfield.

Varsity Football

ARC—47; BLUE RIDGE—0

Coach Harry Milligan let the charges have a party against an outclassed Blue Ridge team. It was one of the most colorful games seen, with the Musketeers running all sorts of tricky plays and letting the line run in the backfield. Richard Still, who was voted "Most Valuable Substitute", blocked two punts. Previously end Bill Reynolds had blocked a kick against Benedictine and end George Short blocked one in the Commercial game.

ARC—31; SAVANNAH—0

The Savannah "Blue Jackets" were the fourth Regional team to fall under the wake of the Purple and Gold-clad Grid Gladiators from A. R. C. A mild case of over confidence slewed the team down for the first half, and Savannah gave us a good battle. But after an inspiring talk by the coach at the half, the fired-up Richmonites showed the visitors who was boss. The Musketeers line held the "Jackets" for minus nineteen yards.

ARC—20; G. M. A.—7

Johnny Menger proved why he was nominated for All American and All Southern against the powerful G. M. A. squad on Nov. 14 as the Musketeers played over their heads and upset the prep team 20-7. Menger played his most outstanding game against the "Cadets". He scored the first t. d., set up the second with an intercepted pass, then threw a touchdown pass to end Prentice Peabody, which was nullified, and in all intercepted four G. M. A. passes. But as Coach Flowers put it, "It was a real team victory, the whole team was in there pitching every minute."

ARC—40; CATHOLIC HIGH—0

"Undefeated" and "Region Champs", that's what the Musketeers were tabbed after the Turkey Day game. Catholic High was supposed to give Richmond a fight, but the twenty-nine graduating seniors on the team had other ideas. They had been looking forward to that game ever since August 20th, and were next to be denied. Here's the way it went. Menger opened up with a 79 yard sprint down the sidelines; then in the second quarter Gene Cronic ran a counter play which put him in the clear and he romped 86 yards for a touchdown only to have it called back. Incidentally, this was the fifth touchdown to be called back during the season, and three times because of this same play. Anyway, Menger made up for it by passing to Jim Ford, who scored on a 46 yard play. Later in the half he plunged over from the one for the third tally. In the second half Menger took a lateral from Len Chavis and ran 34 yards for the score. Then Richard Still blocked a Catholic punt which rolled out of the end zone for a safety. Gene Cronic and Benny Ford scored the last two t. d.'s in the fourth quarter.

Varsity Football

ARC—13; ALBANY—13

The season began with a bang, and ended with the same explosive force. Twenty nine seniors, some who had been with the team since it started to become a football power back in '50, closed out their Richmond grid careers with a thrilling, but slightly sad, game. There were many who say the game was won by unfair means (by being won we recall that the penetration rule gave Albany a 15-14 decision over us), but we are not to argue that here. We must give the enemy credit, for he accomplished deeds which no other opponent had done. He scored both of his touchdowns through the line. Until the playoff no other team had ever scored on the ground. But, we must say, there are many boys who wish they could play that game over again.

The basketball team had a thrilling season and gave the Richmoud fans plenty to remember in the way of basketball thrills. Coached by Frank Iuman, with the assistance of Coach A. L. Williams, handling the B-Varsity, the hardwood Musketeers finished third in the Region during regular season play and second in the tournament held in Angusta. Although they lost out in the first round in the State Tournament, they played outstanding ball and ended up with a 14 won, 10 lost, record. Ray Allen and Ed Moody made All Region and along with Prentice Peabody, were on the All Tournament team.

Junior College of Augusta

DESTINATION—VARSITY
(With apologies to Paul Revere's Horse)

Listen my children and you shall hear
Of the timely voyage of many a year.
On the 31st of May in '53,
We started out with fortune's key.

With "All Aboard" being the cry,
We boarded the ship breathing a sigh.
So with goodbyes from teachers long awaiting this day,
We set sail from the docks of J. C. A.

Skipper Success never steered from his course,
With Happiness being his chief resource.
For 20 long years he sailed the sea,
Distributing each student to where he should be.

The first stop was Aiken and to our surprise,
Among our passengers we had three brides.
Mary Whitaker was first to say, "I do",
Followed shortly by Sara and Marguerite too.

To celebrate this we had a feast,
At which Lyman so increased his physique,
That the Wolf Pack went raving wild
And had to be shipped to the peaceful Nile.

In Atlanta we stopped by a good old school,
Which promises to cure the love-sick fool.
So none other than Chaney we left at Tech.
She's majoring in being a rambling wreck.

At the next cry of "All Ashore",
We found ourselves at Europe's door.
England was first to greet us here
And to Queen Liz we gave a cheer.

Oxford attracted young David Voss,
And from what we hear he's now the big boss.
Into the Hills scampered Bill Holden and Mike Whittle.
One to learn to yodel and the other, to fiddle.

The Alps beckoned to Valdi Cooper
Who now bears the title of Mountain Trooper,
And with all that snow he never gets cold,
An Alpine lover sees to that, I am told.

In the latest news is popular Jackie Rodgers.
He's running homes for the Brooklyn Dodgers.
And who do you think gave him this push?
None other than reporter B. B. Bush.

In Germany we deposited Betty Grimstead,
Who is now rolling in dough making atomic bread.
While in the medical field with the latest word,
Are our great doctors Ruth Jantzen and Elizabeth
Byrd.

In Spain putting over several big deals,
Is Government executive Margaret Fields.

She's up to her neck in world politics,
And from those bulls she gets quit a few kicks.

From here we shipped off to gay "Paree",
Where Katie and Lu are still on a spree.
We hated to leave these innocent babes,
But they assured us they weren't afraid.

Trouble is brewing for Marian Hill.
It seems Dan is Cash—ing in on her still.
Well, neither of them have much of a chance
Making outlaw liquor in "dear dry France".

Ruth Ann and Mary Ann took a slow boat to China.
Social workers are they and nothing could be finer.
Curious Glen and Oxy peeped behind the Iron Curtain.
As to their whereabouts now—well, that is uncertain.

Jimmy and Chandler took a fancy to Argentina
Where they are still trying to wake their bambino.
It seems that she is still in a cold blooded coma
From a glimpse of their faces, love's a misnomer.

Annie and Leila who started out as teachers
Are now sporting diamonds from "to-be" preachers.
Richard Barrett became such a great administrator,
That he's now selling sno-cos on the torrid equator.

From the heart of Africa we heard such a howl,
That we anchored to see if it were beast or fowl.
Kuglar and Grimsley we left behind.
New species of animals they wanted to find.

Cautiously following the alluring coos,
We found only the Wolf Pack singing the blues.
Joan, Connie, and Suzie, June, and Kathleen
Were now the merry wives of the Great Jungle King.

Returning from our voyage to the old Varsity,
We sailed into the Class of '53.
With a hotdog in one hand; a coke in the other,
Around the jukebox they all did hover.

With gossip and laughter running wild,
We enjoyed ourselves for quite awhile.
For not until the strike of three,
Did we think to leave the Varsity.

The thought came as such a shock
That the Varsity ceased to rock.
And as we all started out,
We joined hands and began to shout

READING! and WRITING! and 'RITHMETIC!
Why did we hafta learn so quick???
Why could we not forever stay
Within the halls of J. C. A.?

Academy of Richmond County

Fastening my safety belt, I relaxed in the seat of a luxurious Delta Air Lines Plane. "Yes, this had been a most exciting week! Imagine attending the Presidential inauguration of a fellow Richmondite! I recalled Sam Fleming's ambition to be a distinguished Naval Officer. Fate really had other plans for him! Interrupting my thoughts, a cheerful voice asked, "Are you comfortable?" I looked up and, to my astonishment, I saw the attractive stewardess to be none other than Louise McGahee. "Betty Dempsey," she shrieked, "How grand to see you!" Immediately forgetting her duties, she sat down in the empty seat beside me. The many years since graduation had brought various changes and surprises, so both of us were anxious to exchange news. Unfortunately, Louise had been unable to attend the big event, so she begged me to tell her about that. "Why Louise, I saw so many familiar faces, I felt as if I were back at ARC. Of course, you knew that Jimmy Bardin gave the invocation at the inauguration. Patsy NeSmith and Glenda Vale, both celebrated Metropolitan Opera stars, sang just before Speaker of the House, Mike Zucker, introduced the President. While waiting for the big parade to come into sight, I was nearly knocked down by Mary Davis, Connie Hayes, and Joan Stribling as they tried to get a better view. I learned of their positions on the Physical Education staff at the University of Georgia. Mary boasted that the Georgia football team had won the Rose Bowl game under the efficient coaching of Prentice Peabody. Eve Moseley had recently been promoted to Professor of Geometry at Georgia and Mickey Crouch had become a millionaire by directing minstrel shows. Connie related that Wyman Lamb, Len Chavis, Johnny Menger, Terry Culpepper, and Jimmy Farris were doing quite well playing "pro" football. Jimmy Raines had established a new record the last time he won the Masters Tournament. Carol Benson was now cheering at Tech this year after being at Georgia fifteen years! Joan put in a "plug" for the Harwood, Rudisill, Smith Fight Promoting Agency. Our conversation was cut short by the beginning of the parade. Robert Walton was leading one of the bands, while Jules Godin was still beating his drum. Riding in Cadillacs in the parade, I caught a glimpse of Sue Berry and her famous diplomat husband, also, Evelyn Beckum, Georgia's new woman Senator, and Herman Rowell, Duke of the land of "Ou-Blah-Dee".

"Oh, Betty," interrupted Louise, "I sho' wish I could have been there, but this old airline schedule is so irregular."

"You haven't heard anything yet!" I said. "The best is still to come. Later that afternoon I ran into Gene Cronie and his wife, the former Roberta Crawford, who had come to Washington for the inauguration too. Roberta was wearing a stunning suit and one of those rare black orchids. She told me that the suit was a Patsy Adam's original creation and the orchid had come from the rare orchid collection at Beverly Smith's Florist Shoppe. "Pro" added that Suzanne Carswell and Peggy Dowling had graduated from the School of Pharmaeuy, but gave up their careers for marriage. Jackie Murray had recently returned to Augusta, after unselfishly devoting fifteen years to missionary work in Africa. Jackie had mentioned that Janet Mulcay, Jackie Rountree and Nancy Rivers were engaged in Religious Education and Janie Marbut was an outstanding church organist. It was getting late and "Pro" had an appointment at the Beauty "Centre" owned by Jo Ann Lowry and Gail DuPuis. Before leaving, though, she urged me to visit the Jeanette Stringer Hospital for underprivileged children where Rosemary Feese, Joan Hazlerigs and "Willie" Adams were Physio-Therapists. Barbara McKie, Claire Minor, Beverly Brandenberg, Alice Odgen, Patty Zurfluh, and Joanne Blatee, have at one time, been nurses there, also.

As I started across the street, a policeman yelled at me for jay-walking. I was about to bless him out when I recognized him as Langdon Atkins. Forgetting where I was, I ran over and hugged him. Our ensuing conversation caused the greatest traffic jam in history, but I learned more about our fellow classmates. Charlie Bowen has become a piano tuner, Charlie Lass is UNDERTAKING the job of burying people; "Sticks" Steinburg is a pawn-broker, and Pete Whatley is a tree surgeon. Fearing that Washington's Chief of Police, Jimmy Menger would put me in jail for causing such a turmoil, I told Langdon goodbye and hurried on. Being awfully hungry by this time, I glanced around for the closest restaurant. My eyes focused on a sign reading, Roy Scarborough, prescription optician. Knowing he would be busy and I was still hungry, I proceeded up the street until I found Preston Anderson's Spaghetti House. At the door, I was greeted by the head waiter, "Ham" Holland. After giving him my order, I wandered over to the Video-Picalo, an invention which had made Scottie Langham a millionaire. I put my nickle in and tried to decide between "Old Man River" played by Jimmie Connors and "Country Style" by Bill Reynolds. After much deliberation I chose an instrumental by Orian Niehuss and Dennis Harlowe, followed by Joanne Scott's rendition of "Mule Train." A newsboy, whom I recognized to be Bob Burgess came in shouting, "Extra, extra, read all about it!" Warren Jaunsen and Dan Lester return safely to earth after rocket ship excursion to the moon." I saw the pictures of their arrival taken by staff photographer, Grace Molineux, and read Diane Coward's thrilling account of their adventures as told to her.

I read in Miriam Cale's Hollywood Revue that Mary Martin was in Washington for the World Premier of her latest release "South Atlantic", based on the best seller written by Betty Grimstead. My spaghetti had arrived but I couldn't eat until I had seen what had happened to my favorite comic strip characters "Pencil Louie" and "Mourner Lisy" written by cartoonists Beverly Farr and "Jinky" Ferris.

After eating I hurried back to my suite at the Burkhalter-Gale Hotel to get dressed for the inauguration ball. All too soon my date, Bob Hope, Jr., arrived to escort me to this gala event. Imagine my surprise at seeing his Chauffeur Jodie Lee! I learned from him that Marianne Mitchell and Shirley Freeland were raising rare butterflies for collectors and that Tommy Thoroughman was Professor of Astronomy at Agnes Scott College. At the ball, I found more Richmond Alumni. Barbara Morris, now married to a preacher and proud mother of nine boys was there. (She had left her boys at home under the stern supervision of professional baby-sitter, Ethel Wright.) Barbara informed me that Barbara Bannester, Virginia Bowe and Nancy Marshall were working on a cure to make sneezes silent. Ann Culpepper, who sacrificed her career in the fashion world, has become a proficient aid to her lawyer-husband by helping him write Last Wills and Testaments. Connie Marsh, instead of being a chemist, is also a minister's wife. At this moment, Kay Wooten, the advertising manager for Lynne McMichael's Easy-Does-It Brass Shiner Company, came over and spoke. She surprised me saying that Ray Newman was a clown in the Eitner-Still Circus, and Donald Hite was a tobacco auctioneer."

These last statements brought tears of laughter to the eyes of both Louise and me.

"Gosh, Betty," remarked Louise, "people are really doing crazy things these days. Did you know that "Punk" Scales and Jane Eubanks are raising turkeys on their nine hundred and twenty-eight acre farm? Wanda Ward and Ann Hankinson both have married prominent Philadelphia business men and Marian Haygood finally got married, to a dare-devil stunt pilot at that! Oh, yes! Duane Grice is a traveling salesman for Leroy Gilstrap's class ring company . . . Pity! We're getting ready to land at Bush Field . . . Fasten your safety belt please, we're coming in for a landing." Betty, I'll be watching your T. V. show tonight, "Augusta, U. S. A." Be sure and wave at me!"

"Okay, Louise, I sure will. This trip has been great! But I must run so that I won't keep Mayor Billy Fair waiting. He'll want a full report on Sam's inauguration."

Bye Now!

GIRLS ACTIVITIES MEDAL

The Girls Activities Medal is a recognition for service and participation in the various phases of school life. While it is not primarily an academic award nevertheless a recipient must have maintained an average of eighty in academic subjects. In addition to the academic requirement a student must have earned points, total of ten in athletics, school leadership and active membership in school organizations that have been approved by the Honors Committee of the Faculty.

When Academy of Richmond County became a co-educational institution in September 1950, the Honors Committee realized the need for recognition of outstanding girl students. The Girls Activities Medal was proposed and approved by the Faculty. The first awards were made during the spring term of 1952.

Smiley, how about double-dating with me tonight? My girl's cousin is in town for a visit!

I don't know... is she pretty? I've never seen her, but I've heard she won a contest in Atlantic City!

Rod, you got yourself a boy!
